THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 30 day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE,
MILWAUKEE, February 14, 1889.
A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 31, 1889, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large,) to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 30 day of June, A. D. 1889, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

The height of Democratic statesmanship is calling one another liars.

Ben, Jessie, and Little Tommy, are cutting quite a figure in American politics.

There are two things the Democratic party can never rid itself of—blunders and inhumanity.

As feeble as Mr. Tilden is, he still continues to gobble delegations. Iowa is his last haul. The old corpse is beating about pretty lively.

The gas companies are no longer in terror over electric light. Edison has tampered with public feeling on this question to the full extent of his ability, and now he is losing his hold.

Anyone who pays any attention to the temper of the Democrats in Congress, can easily see that there is a disposition among them to not complete the stealing of the seats until after the Presidential election.

The Democrats in the Senate have again disagreed as to what should be done with the Kellogg-Spofford case. There is nothing easier in the world for the Democrats to do than to blunder and to disagree.

A dispatch from Washington says the Chippewa Indians chiefs have agreed to take their land in severalty with a perfect title, and that the remainder of their reservation in this State shall be held, and the proceeds kept as a trust fund.

Judge Davis got down, off the political fence long enough to say that he thinks that Kellogg is entitled to his seat, and that the matter was settled two or three years ago. This position of Judge Davis, who for once seems to be out of pack, is the wisest heads in Congress. They can't divine his motives.

The immigration to the United States during the year ending March 31, 1889, was 201,632, against 134,395 for the year previous. These official figures show that with the return of good times, and under the inspiration of the "boom," immigration has vastly increased. The country which sent the most emigrants was Germany.

Once in a while you will find a Republican who doesn't like General Grant's record when President. Probably Grant like all other human beings, has made some mistakes, but his are so small in number and so insignificant compared with Democratic mistakes and blunders, that not a Democratic paper in the country has the courage to publish any portion of General Grant's civil record.

On Friday the Gazette raised objection to the appointment of Senator McGrew to the committee to investigate the affairs of the State hospital, on the ground that he was "one of the four who voted not to investigate the affairs of the hospital." Our information was derived from a gentleman who watched the proceedings of the Senate very closely, and who took a deep interest in the management of the State hospital. But a gentleman at Madison, prominent in position and who is closely identified with the interests of all our State institutions, says that Senator McGrew both favored and voted for the resolution to investigate, in all the stages of its progress, and up to and including its adoption; and for corroborating evidence refers to pages 610, 611, 612, and 613, of the Senate Journal. If the Gazette has been misinformed in the first instance regarding the relation of Senator McGrew to the State hospital investigation, it hastens to make the correction, and is glad to note that the Senator is heartily in accord with the movement to thoroughly examine the management of the hospital. In the appointment of the investigating committee, whose work will be of considerable importance to the State, as well as to the hospital, Governor Smith was unusually solicitous to have it so constituted that no suspicion of influence from considerations of fear or favor could attach to its report.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE.

VOLUME 24

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, MONDAY, APRIL 12, 1880.

THE CONGRESSIONAL QUESTION.

For some time past there have been reports in circulation that Senator Quarles, of Kenosha, was a candidate for Congress, and that he would contest for the nomination. This report was denied by some, and held to be true by others who professed to know all about the political ambition of the Senator. In order to settle these conflicting rumors and give the public reliable information regarding the candidacy of Senator Quarles, the editor of the Gazette wrote that gentleman on the subject, and the following is the answer:

KENOSHA, Wis., April 10, 1880.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Dear Sir: Your favor of the 1st inst. asking whether I will permit my name to be used as a candidate for Member of Congress, and whether I will make any effort for such nomination, is duly received. My absence on a business trip has occasioned some delay in my reply.

I feel no hesitation in answering your questions and in so doing, will only reiterate what I have told all friends who have broached the subject.

It is a source of gratitude that so many friends have been pleased to associate my name with a position so responsible and honorable.

Personal considerations of the greatest importance constrain me to remain in private life and to be tempted by no position that would divorce me from my profession.

I shall therefore not be a candidate for Congress under any circumstances, and my name will not be used in connection with that position.

I take pleasure in adding that I shall heartily support Hon. C. G. Williams for a re-nomination, and believe that the First District can do no better than to send Mr. Williams back again.

Very Respectfully,
Yours etc,
J. V. QUARLES.

This is an open and frank answer. It shows that Senator Quarles is anxious that the voters of the First District shall know exactly how he stands on the Congressional question. He is so firm in his determination not to be a candidate, and not to permit his name to be used in the Convention, that his position admits of no uncertainty, and will set at rest the reports that he was a candidate. Another important feature of the letter is that he is not afraid to speak out as to his choice concerning the person who should be nominated by the Convention. His hearty support of Mr. Williams is flattering to that gentleman, and will be read with interest by the Republican voters of Rock county.

TILDEN.

There are some fears being expressed by Republican papers that Tilden will not be nominated. The South going almost solidly against him, and his inability to break the two third rule, may possibly defeat him. There have been a great many hopes expressed by the Republican press of the country, that Tilden would be re-nominated. While they have no doubt of the success of any of the distinguished gentlemen named on the Republican side in connection with the Chicago nomination, yet they hold that Tilden would be the most overwhelmingly defeated, and that would be a desirable consummation in order to avert all troubles. This view of the case is doubtless the correct one. The nomination of Tilden would seal the fate of the Democratic party. He would lose New York, and the indications point pretty strongly in the direction of his losing some of the Southern States. While the Republicans can not hope for any support from the South in the way of electoral votes, yet the nomination of Mr. Tilden would make it possible for General Grant, or any other Republican candidate to carry one or two of the Southern States which are just now not only disgusted with Tilden, but heartily sick of their Democratic State governments. There has been a remarkable in public sentiment in regard to Tilden since 1876. He was then known by those who intimately knew him to be supremely selfish, an unprincipled schemer, and intensely dishonest. The Democratic party has found him out, and that is the reason why the South opposes him, and why not one influential paper in the United States endorses him for re-nomination. It is hardly any wonder that Tilden is meeting with all this opposition. The cipher dispatches and the bold fact that he used every effort possible to purchase with money a sufficient number of electoral votes to elect him President, have caused him to lose cost even with the Democrats. As a rule the party upholds this sort of business, but as much as it happened to lessen Tilden's strength, a majority of the party is opposed to him. There are still left in the Democratic party some sober minded men. These can be found in Rock county, and in every county in the North, and if Samuel J. Tilden is nominated, there are hundreds of them whose will would be equal to the emergencies, and would openly vote the Republican ticket. It has come to this pass that in all the Democratic party there is hardly a prominent candidate who can command the confidence of the party, and it would not be surprising if the Cincinnati Convention was compelled to go outside of the party for a man who would have a ghost of a chance to be elected. But this fact should not in the least lessen the zeal of the Republicans. However unfortunate for them may be the defeat of Mr. Tilden in the Convention, the Republicans will still have the strongest hope for an overwhelming victory. But it can not be gained except by hard work and harmony. We have faith in the judgment of the Chicago Convention. We believe it will do the best possible thing for the party and the country, but however wise its action in regard to a candidate, the party itself must do its share, and not indulge in lethargy nor repose in overconfidence, till the victory shall have been won.

GENERAL GRANT.

General Grant and Party En Route for Vicksburg—Scenes and Incidents.

JACKSON, Miss., April 11—General Grant and party left New Orleans at 2 o'clock this afternoon on a special car attached to the regular train on the Jackson route. There were crowds of people out all along the road to greet the General. At Hammond Station there was a small body of colored people, with four American flags under the lead of an African preacher. The train stopped a few minutes, and the General appeared on the rear platform and entered into conversation, asking the flag-bearers where they were from. One of them said "General, I'm from North Carolina." "How did you get away down here?" "I've touched by the nigger traders."

At McComb City and Summit, Mississippi, there were large crowds who cheered lustily. At this place there was fully 5,000 people congregated, and as the General appeared they cheered themselves hoarse. The train goes on to Vicksburg at once.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 11—Judge Lochrane, of Georgia, invited General Grant to visit Atlanta and be his guest. The General has written him a note, stating that it is impossible to comply, and regretting that he cannot visit a city that has made such rapid improvement during the last fifteen years. He says further that his visit to other parts of the State last January convinced him that rapid progress was being made by Georgia, as well as other parts of both north and south where he has been.

BRIEFLETS.

—Chilly nights.
—Last week of school.
—The Mutual Improvers meet to-night.
—There was a clean sweep on Milwaukee street this morning.
—Mr. Salsman, of the Grand hotel, started away this morning on another trip.
—The Common Council meet to-night and will officially canvass the election returns.
—Dr. Burrus gives another lecture at Court Street church to-night for the Good Templars.
—W. P. Bowen sends us the first number of the Dakota Gazette, published at Volga, D. T.
—Several tramps were run in yesterday by the officers, but none of them were very bad specimens.
—Thos. Cairns went to Chicago this morning to buy goods, and to spend two or three days on business.
—Dr. Brydon, the Scotch doctor, left for Chicago this morning, but promises to come back in a few months.
—Mrs. Hunt's school opened to-day with the prospect of a most successful term. She is a most excellent teacher, and her pupils show the effect of good solid work.
—Charles O. Tattershall, of Beloit, has been appointed Quartermaster of the First Battalion of the State militia, on Major Britton's staff. He will rank as First Lieutenant.
—Superintendent Rock, of the St. Paul road, who had a stroke of paralysis about a week ago, is much better now, and expects to be able to attend somewhat to business in a few weeks.
—Sloggs, Potter & Son are fitting up Moseley's old stand, and are arranging their stock of dry goods so as to open up next Wednesday, as will be seen by a peep into another column.
—During the past week there have been issued at the postoffice here 184 money orders, amounting to $3,355.00, and 118 orders paid, amounting to $1,706.20, making a total of cash handled, $3,991.80.
—Croft & Sherer have put their new soda fountain in shape for warm weather. It is a beauty, and is conveniently and tastefully arranged. Now for some coolness to drink and "hotness" in weather.
—The tailors of the city had a brief strike to-day. It lasted until noon, and then satisfactory arrangements were made between employers and employees, and at 1 o'clock work was resumed. It was a strike with no waste of gore.
—John Morrissey, the ball tosser, started this morning for Albany, where he is to enter the field, probably as third baseman. He's a good one, and will keep up his share of the score, sure. We expect to hear about his capturing plenty of honors this season.
—Richard Packham, who has been very ill for several months past, died at his home in this city Saturday evening aged seventy-three years. He has been a resident of Janesville for twenty-seven years, and leaves a wife, one son and two daughters.
—Peter Myers is having the plans drawn for a new block to be built by him on the old Hyatt house corner, and is going right along with the work. It is to resemble very closely M. C. Smith's block, and will make a marked improvement to that portion of the city.
—Joseph Oughton returned from New York Saturday, where he has been buying goods. The new goods are already being received and will bear inspection. They embrace all varieties of dry goods and millinery goods, and the ladies should drop in and look at them. The display is a fine one indeed.
—Charles S. Metzger, the agent of the Florence Herbert Combination, was in the city to-day arranging for the week's run at the Opera house commencing next Monday evening, with "Miss Merton". The tickets are to be at popular prices, only twenty-five cents, and thirty-five cents for reserved seats.
—A. P. Bennett has let all the work for his new block, Rathernam is to do the mason work, and Shopbell & Norris the carpenter work. The cut stone for the window caps is to be blue sandstone, and for some other portions of the building limestone. There will be in all five carloads of cut stone, which Mr. Bennett bought in Joliet.
—George Prichard has rented a store in the Myers house block, on Milwaukee street, next to the Chinese laundry, and is going to engage in the plumbing and gas fitting business. He is a good workman, is known and liked by all, and will doubtless have his full share of the business. His father, M. S. Prichard, talks some of fitting up a portion of the front part of the same store as a law office.
—Patrick McCune, died at his home in this city, corner of Court street and Ruger avenue, last evening, about 6 o'clock. He had reached the age of 43 years, and leaves a wife and six children. He was a member of St. Patrick's Temperance Society, and the members of that organization are requested to meet at their hall to-morrow afternoon, at 1 o'clock to attend in a body the funeral services which are to be held at St. Patrick's church.
—The Chicago Times of Saturday gives several columns to Wisconsin, which it calls the "New England of the West," and shows up its advantages over other States in regard to health and financial prosperity. It places the annual death rate for the United States as one out of every 89 inhabitants, and Wisconsin's rate is only one out of every 105. In speaking of Janesville it places the population at 13,000, which is more than a thousand less than the new directory shows.
—The Merry Club are to have a "domino" as their closing party of the season. It will be held at Cannon's hall next Wednesday evening, and dancing is to commence at 8 o'clock sharp. None but active and honorary members of the club will be admitted to the floor, and to all such free admittance will be granted on making themselves known to the gentlemen who will be stationed at the door. Only invised guests will be admitted to the gallery, and all such will be admitted free. The occasion will be a joyous one without any shadow of doubt.

—Justice Brooks has received several cases of tobacco, that is, law cases in which tobacco is concerned. Mr. Atwater has sued several farmers for alleged failure to fulfill contracts, claiming that the tobacco was not cured and cared for properly, and that it was mixed with inferior kinds to that bargained for, etc., and therefore sues to recover the amount paid on the contracts. The defendants deny all this and claim damages of him for not taking the tobacco at the prices agreed upon.

—One of the most attractive sights to be seen in strolling along the streets is the show window of Heimstreet's drug store, where he has an art display. All manner of artists' materials, brushes, colors, palettes, crayons, etc., are arranged in a very fantastic manner, and the rear is decorated by lace curtains drawn back gracefully, so that the whole presents a very pleasing appearance. In the center of this display of goods is an oil painting from the studio of Mrs. H. R. Cook, representing honey in a glass dish, and looking so lifelike as to draw even the flies. It is a fine bit of work, and excites many words of praise from those who stop to see it. Heimstreet expects to add still more to the attractiveness of his drug store by plants and flowers. His first display of the season is next Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m.

From a Distinguished Clergyman.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19, 1879.
I have known of several persons who regarded themselves as greatly benefited, and some of them as permanently cured of diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs by your medicine. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I have known, too, of its use in similar cases by physicians of the highest character and standing. I do not doubt that it has great virtue.

TOBACCO SALES.

Sales of seed leaf tobacco for the week ending April 10, 1890, in New York:
100 cases, crop of 1879, Pennsylvania, p. t.
400 cases, crop of 1878, Pennsylvania fillers at 94 to 104 cents, and assorted, at 12 to 15 cents.
63 cases crop of 1879, Pennsylvania wrappers, at 30 cents.
150 cases crop of 1878, New England seconds at 11 cents to 13 cents, and Wrappers at 15 to 25 cents.
100 cases, crop of 1878, Ohio, wrappers at 9 to 13 cents.
100 cases crop of 1878, Wisconsin, at 9 to 15 cents.

PROMPT PAYMENT.

Mr. C. E. Church, Recorder of Olive Branch Lodge A. O. U. W., has received and paid to Mrs. Jane E. Bailey, two thousand dollars, the same being payment in full for beneficiary certificate on the life of E. C. Bailey, her late husband. It has been but about thirty days since Mr. Bailey died. This would seem to indicate that the A. O. U. W. has as good facilities to meet losses promptly as the best life companies. We congratulate the order on being able to pay on so short time. The order, as we are informed, is growing rapidly in this State and also in this city. This is the first loss in this city, which has been met by the strictly beneficiary societies.

PAYING DAMAGES.

S. C. Burnham has settled his case with the Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company. It will be remembered that he, in company with his daughter and son's wife, were driving along on Jackson street, near the crossing, when a switch engine suddenly started out from behind the warehouse, and the horse being frightened, jumped and overturned the buggy, injuring all three of the occupants more or less. Mr. Burnham claimed that the engine bell did not ring, and that the speed of the engine was faster than that allowed by law. He once offered to settle with the company for $1,000, but afterwards brought suit. Saturday the matter was settled by giving Mr. Burnham a check for $1,500 and $125 to cover attorney's fees, and thus all litigation drops.

SOME STYLE TO IT.

The Round Table last Saturday night had a discussion of "Style"—not of dress, of feathers, of ribbons, of Easter bonnets, but of style in literature. Miss Bertha Sayles treated the subject generally, and showed how it reflected both national and personal characteristics. The respective spheres of poetry and prose were outlined also.

Mr. J. C. Metcalf spoke of "Style in Conversation." He spoke of conversation as an art which could be improved, and spoke of the requisites to a good conversationalist, familiarity with a subject, plain language, good judgment concerning time and place, feeling, logic, and honesty.

B. F. Danwiddie, Esq., read a paper on "The Philosophy of Style." Excellence in style depended on clear thought, and skillful use of language. Clear conceptions were necessary to clear statements, and the elegance admits of none but natural ornaments, springing from within.

Rev. H. Faville spoke of "Morality of Style." He urged the calling of things by their right names, using simple language, striking directly at an idea, and honestly expressing opinions.

Rev. T. P. Sawin spoke of the "Great Masters of Style," naming Demosthenes, Virgil, Shakespeare, Milton, Pope, Bryant, Irving and Bancroft.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The following resolutions concerning the death of Miss Lavinia Goodell were adopted at a meeting of the Round Table Saturday evening:

WHEREAS, On the 31st day of March 1890, Rhoda Lavinia Goodell passed hence to her everlasting rest; and inasmuch as she was a member and executive officer of the Round Table from its organization, it is fitting that we take some action appropriate to this sad event. Therefore

Resolved, That the Round Table hereby acknowledge and put on record its profound sorrow for its loss in the departure of our beloved friend and valued comrade, its high appreciation of her literary talents, her genial social qualities, her devoted Christian philanthropy, her earnest efforts in promoting a generous and comprehensive culture, both of mind and heart, and her faithful and loyal to this society as an adviser and laborer, both in executive office and in the details of our literary work.

Resolved, That a fitting "In Memoriam" be prepared for circulation among the membership, expressive of our loss, and of the deep sympathy we feel toward those who have been called to mourn the departure of a loving sister and true friend, and that when such "In Memoriam" is prepared, it be sent to the friends of the deceased.

SUNDAY SNEAKS.

Yesterday while Mr. Clark Poppo and family were away from their home in the town of Center, about six miles from here, some sneak-thieves went through the house, gaining entrance thereto by one of the windows. They did not disturb many things, and evidently made a hurried visit, there being no signs of their having been in the upper part of the house at all. The most valuable bit of plunder which they secured was an open-faced gold watch. They also took some clothing. There has been considerable thieving in that vicinity for some time past, but this has been the most serious. It seems as if it must be done by parties familiar with the neighborhood.

TOOK A TUMBLE.

Anton Wollitz, a tailor in the employ of W. C. Holmes, was out riding yesterday, when the wagon gave way, started the horse, and Mr. Wollitz was thrown out, and met with some injuries, the most serious of which proved to be a dislocation of the thigh. Dr. Palmer is attending him and it is thought that he will speedily be himself again.

Excessive Heat

And improper food at this season of the year may speedily carry you to the grave. Parker's Ginger Tonic should always be kept in the house, as it is unequalled for nursing mothers with teething children, and not only cures Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cholera, Cholera Infantum, Colic, Cramps, etc., but prevents these dangerous attacks. By its corrective action on the digestive apparatus it cures Headache, Indigestion, Nervousness, Palpitation of the heart, Wakefulness, Neuralgic Pains, Liver Disorders, Low Spirits, Sour stomach and all other symptoms and forms of Dyspepsia, regulates the Bowels, and enables you to enjoy the fruits and vegetables of the season. Buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle and try it. Sold by all first-class druggists.

Also Trimmings for Cloaks, Dresses, &c. We have come here to stay with you, and hope by fair dealing to merit a share of your patronage. SLOGGS, POTTER & SON, Janesville, April 10.

Mr. Fellows is daily in receipt of letters of enquiry, from various parts, respecting his Syrup of Hypophosphites. One recently received, leads to the belief that the public mistake his meaning in reference to its effect in imparting superior energy to the mind. Where the intellect has been impaired by overwork or by kindred causes, the use of the Syrup, together with proper precautions in the use of food, clothing, exercise and rest, will restore full power to the brain and nerves. Superiority of genius consists in great capacity of brain for assimilating material from every quarter, and of developing in proportion, but as by far the greater number are not well endowed by nature, consequently lacking this capacity, it would be quite impossible to find cranium space for material necessary to constitute the brilliant genius. Hence, although the Syrup will assist in restoring the mind which is lost, it cannot change a natural born idiot into an intelligent man.

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 45 cents a bottle.

What a Splendid Complexion!

That young lady who moves through the merry crowd has a most splendid complexion. And why? She is in robust health. See her when disease comes and robs her of her color. Now she is an invalid. Some trifling irregularity or exposure has brought on sickness and nature grows weak. The use of the PARVIAN SYRUP will restore health and those rosy cheeks. Health may be restored and with it beauty and grace. This syrup is nature's great means of revitalization. It injures none and benefits all who use it. It has relieved and cured where all others have failed. It renews the spirits of the despondent, sends new life bounding through the veins, and is, without doubt, the most successful preparation ever offered to the public. All druggists sell it. Sold in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson. apr12daw1y honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattery. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained of years of experience in the treatment of chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailments, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourself; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.
